Global Partners, GAC delivers peace of mind

GAC works exclusively with like-minded moving companies around the world that are firmly established and committed to providing quality moving services. Our global network comprises over 300 carefully selected partner agents in most major cities.

Your destination agent will have the professional experience and local knowledge to handle all customs clearance formalities and arrange delivery of your household goods to your new home.

Relocation is in itself a challenge. And we believe that you already have enough to think about without worrying about your forthcoming move.

That's why we treat every item with care, and every move with pride. Throughout the Middle East, you'll find modern GAC facilities and helpful GAC staff members, dedicated to ensuring that your moving experience is as stress free as possible.

Committed to quality

As quality is an ongoing process, GAC strives to ensure excellence and superior service on a daily basis. Our services are DNV-ISO 9001-2000 certified.

Our offices in Abu Dhabi, Bahrain, Dubai, Kuwait, Qatar and Oman have achieved the FIDI-FAIMISO standard – the only quality assurance standard for the international moving industry.

Accreditation follows independent audit of each station by Ernst&Young on behalf of FIDI (The International Federation of International Movers), a Belgian-based organisation representing over 500 of the finest overseas moving companies around the world of which the six offices are members.

Highly trained packers

Packing for overseas moving is a specialist skill, and we have experienced, professional staff to help you in your home. Our full packing service combines traditional skills with the latest packing materials to ensure the safest possible journey for your belongings.

Marine transit insurance

Although we take every possible precaution during packing, we still strongly recommend that you protect your possessions while they are in transit. We have negotiated a comprehensive, door-to-door insurance package with one of the industry's leading insurers for all air and sea shipments. Your GAC moving consultant will tell you more.

Safe, secure storage

If you cannot move directly into your new home, or your goods need to be stored before dispatch, GAC offers secure storage facilities throughout the Middle East. We can store your goods in wooden storage boxes, or at selected locations in twenty foot steel containers.

They're not just household goods, they're your possessions, and GAC treats them with care and respect. GAC are affiliated with the following leading international moving associations.

Combining our in-depth local knowledge and integrated global network, GAC offers a wide range of logistics solutions to meet customers' needs.

Preparing for your move

To fully understand the requirements of your move, a GAC moving consultant will meet you at your home. He or she will then recommend the appropriate mode of shipment, discuss insurance options and provide a comprehensive written quotation for your move. Packing dates can also be scheduled at this time.

Sole use container, commonly called Full Container Load shipment (FCL)

After export packing has been completed, your shipment will be loaded into a steel shipping container, which will carry only your goods. Where access allows, it will be loaded and closed at your residence before being returned to the port of exit for loading on the next available vessel to your destination country.

Cased shipment, normally referred to as Less than Container Load shipment (LCL)

This method is used for ocean freight shipment where a full container would not be cost-effective. Your goods will be loaded into a purpose built wooden shipping case at our warehouse. This will then be loaded inside a steel shipping container and sent to your final destination.

Shared use container, usually called Groupage shipment

This service is only provided to the more popular destinations worldwide. Several shipments to a common destination are consolidated at our warehouse prior to loading into a shipping container. If your moving and delivery dates are flexible and you have a fairly small shipment, then this service will probably be the most economical option.

Air freight shipment

Although air freight as a general rule is more expensive than ocean freight, it may be worth considering when sending a small shipment of essential terms in advance of your sea shipment, or if you only have a relatively small shipment to send.
