Delivering the skills, equipment and physical presence for any STS operation, anytime, anywhere

Transferring bulk liquids and gases from ship-to-ship (STS) is a highly technical and challenging operation that requires not only specialised skills and equipment, but also prompt mobility and in depth experience in dealing with contingency situations.

GAC Transfer Services – Powered by MariFlex (GTSM) has exactly what it takes to deliver ship-to-ship operations safely and seamlessly for a wide variety of liquid cargoes such as crude oil, petroleum products and liquefied gas.

GTSM is the result of an alliance between GAC and MariFlex, two leaders with more than 60 years combined in performing successful ship-to-ship transfers for principals who own or operate any sizes of vessels.

Thanks to our years of experience and strong knowledge in STS operations, GTSM can address principals' concerns related to a range of issues such as: nominations, scheduling, diversions, draught, risk areas, restrictions, casualties and salvage.

Safety first

Every liquid bulk and gas transfer operation is carried out by GTSM in accordance with the guidelines set out by the Oil Companies International Marine Forum (OCIMF) latest edition and the International Chamber of Shipping (ICS) Guidelines, with the strictest adherence to safety regulations

Complying with international and local requirements, our STS operations are handled by trained and experienced personnel to ensure safe control. We also provide all necessary equipment such as hoses, fenders, and support craft, as well as full back-up services including standby boats, equipment transportation and a 24-hour communication coverage with vessels.

Accessibility, mobility and flexibility

The overall safety for any STS operation depends largely on the use of the correct size and number of fenders and certified tested hoses.

GTSM provides experienced mooring / loading masters who oversee the entire operation and ensure strict adherence to well documented safe procedures. In addition to operating with quick mobility and flexibility, GTSM is able to provide customised solutions as well as operate anywhere and anytime as required by clients.
