GAC in Russia

Manning Services

Manning solutions for all requirements

Availability of well-trained crew is of paramount importance to any vessel. The demand for qualified seafarers as well as maritime industry specialists is growing. GAC works closely with Principals to ensure that all stipulations are met, including STCW 95 convention, flag state, national as well as company-specific requirements.

Comprehensive coverage

GAC has its own crewing offices in the cities of Novorossiysk and St Petersburg, strategically located in the region's largest ports to benefit from the high concentration of experienced Russian mariners who reside there. Furthermore, Russia's renowned marine training institutions are situated in these two cities, yielding large numbers of expertly trained cadets, year after year.

Complete portfolio of services

GAC provides a full range of personnel-related services to the maritime industry which includes:

- Selection and recruitment of qualified and experienced marine personnel from Novorossiysk, St Petersburg and other locations in Russia and the Commonwealth of Independent States

- Recruitment of shore support staff — marine operations and technical managers, ship superintendents, port engineers, etc
- Recruitment of Mooring Masters and specialists in FSO/ FPSO operations
- Arrangement of strict pre-joining medical examinations
- Enrolment of crew members on training courses in line with STCW 95 and owners' requirements
- Visa and travel support

Advantages

- Vast database of officers and ratings with experience of work on oil and product carriers, dry cargo vessels and offshore support vessels
- Certified to ISO 9001:2000 standards
- Licensed in accordance with applicable Russian legislation
- Strict compliance with HSSE procedures and regulations
- Strictly ethical business practices
