GAC Fashion Logistics – from the shows to the shelves

Whether you need to securely transport the latest top secret collections to the world's biggest fashion shows, or to ensure manufacturers' designs reach the rails as speedily as possible, GAC Logistics UK's specialised services for the fashion industry get the job done – on time, every time.

Time-definite logistics is the most critical part of what goes on in the run-up to the runway, and from the manufacturers' factories to the retailers' shop windows. GAC Logistics' dedicated team of specialists work around the clock behind the scenes to bring fashion to market.

Combining technical expertise and attention to detail

With over fifty years of experience under our belts, we've enhanced and refined our logistics skills to meet the constantly evolving needs of the dynamic fashion environment to provide fast, dependable and efficient supply chain management. We are dedicated to helping our many leading retail customers stay ahead of the field in range availability, reducing inventory levels and shortening cycle times – all of which impacts positively on the bottom line.

Our clients benefit from GAC Logistics' proven track record of serving many of the UK's biggest and most prestigious brands.

Complete portfolio of services

Our complete strategic supply chain management services cover the entire retail supply chain from consolidation at manufacturing source, through warehousing and distribution to in-store shelves, and also reverse logistics. Added value options include promotional packaging, inkjet printing and barcode scanning.

Reduced costs, improved efficiency

Although the world may seem to be getting smaller, it's still a daunting task for most companies to control the flow of goods across it efficiently. More and more companies are looking to outsource their logistics and distribution functions, and focus on their core business. Businesses operate more efficiently, costs are reduced and value increased.

Leveraging the GAC Group's global base, GAC Logistics offers clients competitive freight rates resulting from global purchasing power and volume consolidation. This same global presence ensures that GAC is always there, wherever production shifts and as points of origin and destination continue to increase.

GAC Logistics - global, local

GAC Logistics has created a network for today's interconnected world – one that is truly global but built on a solid foundation of local GAC offices and partnerships.
