GAC Greece Shipping Services

Local expertise, global resources

Greece has a rich maritime history, going back to antiquity. Today, it remains a major nautical centre and an active player in every aspect of international shipping. Tourism beats at the heart of the country, making it a popular destination for cruise liners.

For more than a quarter of a century, GAC Shipping S.A. has been providing a complete range of shipping services to Principals calling at all ports throughout the country, through its network of carefully selected and monitored sub-agents.

Operations are coordinated from the head office in Piraeus – one of the Mediterranean's biggest ports and a short distance from Greece's largest shipyards and LNG terminals & refineries – and the branch office in the northern port of Thessaloniki – an important transit hub for the Balkans.

As part of the GAC Group, a global shipping and logistics provider with more than 300 offices worldwide, we are able to leverage the global infrastructure and resources of the Group for our customers' benefit.

All-round service

GAC Shipping provides the complete range of agency and husbandry services that could be required by any kind of vessel calling at any Greek port.

A broad portfolio of supporting services including provision of ship supplies and bunker fuels, marine logistics, repairs, lay-up attendance & services, sales & purchases, weather routing and global hub operations is also available from the GAC Group.
